GLUTATHIONE

Show off your skin tone with glutathione and vitamin C infusions!

How is glutathione used for skin lightening?

It's actually very simple. Melanin, produced by melanocytes in the bottom layer of the epidermis, determines your skin color. Increased melanin levels in the body triggers darker skin tones and spots. Glutathione slows the production of melanin, making your skin brighter. When you combine glutathione with vitamin C, your skin becomes lighter evenly and more naturally.

Why lighten your skin through glutathione IV infusions?

Intravenous therapy for skin lightening is a breakthrough in brightening and cell defense because of its fascinating results. Through IV therapy, a combination of powerful anti-oxidants such as glutathione delivered with vitamins, minerals and fluids hydrate the skin and reduce melanin production. After a series of treatments, most people notice a lighter skin tone as a result.

How many sessions of glutathione drips does it take to see results?

For skin brightening, it's recommended to undergo IV infusions twice a week for two to three months in order to get the full benefit. After this period, infusions can be done weekly until you reach the desired skin tone and results. Shortly after, one session every month will maintain the results you've achieved.
